Who's Who in the Cast

PAUL LIPSON (Tevye) has been heading this National Company for many months, and played Tevye for the 500th time on November 23, 1968. His warm, rich performance ranks him right up there with such other notable Tevyes as Zero Mostel, Luther Adler and Herschel Bernardi. Mr. Lipson worked his way up into the part of the Dairyman; he originally played Avram with the New York company, later moved into the role of Lazar Wolf, the butcher, and had actually played Tevye on Broadway for 56 performances by the time he went touring with the National Company as the "matinee Tevye," with Luther Adler playing the evening performances. Raised in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, Mr. Lipson graduated from Ohio State University, then was given his first Broadway role by Ben Hecht, in Lily of the Valley. After World War II, in which he served as an Air Force officer (among other achievements, he produced a lively War Bond rally in the San Joaquin Valley that netted a cool eight million dollars), he returned to the stage to tour with ZaSu Pitts in Dangerous Woman and with Diana Barrymore in Joan of Lorraine. His first big Broadway break came when Lindsay and Crouse signed him to play a kind-hearted Irish detective, Brody, opposite Ralph Bellamy in Detective Story; he had previously played the same role on tour, opposite Chester Morris. So much did Lindsay and Crouse like his work that they put him into their new Broadway mystery, Remains To Be Seen. Subsequently Broadway roles in Carnival in Flanders (his first musical) and I've Got Sixpence preceded tours with Walter Slezak in My Three Angels and with Carol Channing in Wonderful Town. He returned to Broadway with Miss Channing, in The Vamp, and then did his first work for "Fiddlers" director, Jerome Robbins, in Bells Are Ringing, the famous Judy Holliday musical. In recent years he has been occupied with many musicals, having played Mayor LaGuardia's loyal office manager in Fiorello! and then having replaced Kurt Kaszner in Rodgers and Hammerstein's The Sound of Music. Television viewers have seen him as Patsy in Sergeant Bilko and as J. D. Milford in the daily serial, Love of Life. With Fiddler on the Roof firmly established as one of the most successful musicals in history, and with the end of its travels nowhere in sight, it will be a long, long time before Mr. Lipson gets to shave off that luxuriant beard. He'll be glad to wait.

MIMI RANDOLPH (Golde) has been seen by New York playgoers in Dear Me, The Sky Is Falling, in Pocket Watch, All In Love (a musical based on The Rivals) as well as in Gilbert and Sullivan Operettas in which she sang all contralto leads; in children's plays and in the legitimate dramas of Shakespeare, Shaw, Sheridan, Strindberg, Ibsen, Wilde and O'Neill. Across the country, she has been applauded in leading roles in such well-known musicals as Funny Girl, Music Man, Red-head, Carousel, Destry Rides Again, Once Upon a Mattress, and Gentlemen Prefer Blondes. Miss Randolph has entertained in the Catskill resorts and is an accomplished dialectician. When not performing in the theatre, Miriam Randolph can be found working on the floor of the New York Cotton Exchange, the only lady floor representative ever employed at that address.
