Grand Group

These are the grand prize winners of $1,000 each in 20th Annual Newspaper Snapshot Awards, sponsored by Kodak. More than 325,000 entries were received by the 95 leading newspapers participating. These sent their winners in for the final judging for the more than $20,000 in awards. This is the world's largest and most competitive photo competition for amateurs.

KODAK PLAYS A MORE IMPORTANT ROLE IN TODAY'S constant space-age experiments than the layman who scans the skies to get a peek at a zooming rocket realizes.

Take, for instance, the upcoming attempt by the Navy to send a balloon up 15 miles into the stratosphere for the purpose of photographing the infrared spectrum of Mars. At this point, the chief item of interest Company-wise is that high-speed photographic plates made by Kodak will be used.

But actually the Kodak tie-in involves much more. There was advance planning, supplying plates for trials and experiments, and the making of a plate never before available specifically for this purpose. Then there had to be instructions on how the plates should be hypersensitized and explicit processing recommendations.

As early as last March came a request from Dr. John Strong, a professor in the laboratory of astrophysics and physical meteorology at Johns Hopkins University, explaining that it was planned to observe Mars at the end of this calendar year by means of a balloon telescope at 80,000 feet altitude.

They were planning to use infrared I-M Kodak "Spectroscopic" Plates . . . could Kodak suggest anything better, Prof. Strong wanted to know. "Or is there anything that can or will be coming out by next fall which shows promise?" Strong wrote Bill Swann, manager of Kodak's Special Sensitized Products Sales Div.

Swann promptly contacted the Kodak Research Laboratories and was assured that every effort would be made to make an M plate more sensitive than our regular I-M for a long exposure time.

By mid-May experimental plates were sent to Strong and to Dr. C. C. Kiess of the Bureau of Standards and Dr. W. M. Sinton of Lowell Observatory who are collaborating with Johns Hopkins on this Navy-sponsored photographic problem.

Needless to say, Bill Swann and the boys

Balloonists Set To 'Capture' Mars On Kodak Plates

at the KP Research Laboratories will be keenly interested in the results of this month's Navy probe above the murk and haze of the Earth's atmosphere.

A giant plastic balloon will lift a gondola-mounted 16-inch telescope, designed by Prof. Strong, on its 24-hour ascent. It is hoped that Strong and Navy Comdr. Malcolm Ross will have a minimum of two hours for "shooting Mars."

Their main task will be to make sure that the instrument is pointing accurately at Mars. Most of the aiming will be done by automatic electronic equipment. It is necessary, however, to have a human supervisor standing by to check focus, to change the 3 1/4 x 4 1/4 plates and to make sure that everything is working satisfactorily.

One day, in the not-too-distant future, they'll be taking pictures from satellites and space stations . . . and you can bet they're counting on Kodak's cooperating.

910 Adhesive On Market

Eastman 910 Adhesive, capable of bonding virtually any combination of materials together, will be marketed as a commercial product, it was announced this week.

The adhesive will be available through Eastman Chemical Products, Inc., and by the Industrial Division of Armstrong Cork Co., long-time specialist in industrial adhesives.

The unique adhesive was first introduced a year ago as a laboratory curiosity, but its use has grown so widely in solving difficult assembly problems and joining so many materials together that it was decided to produce it commercially.

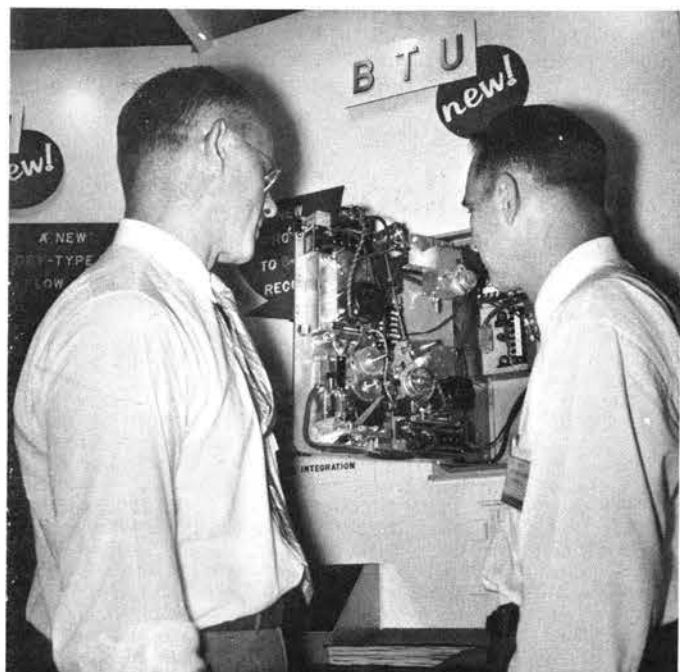

It is being used to assemble such products as trophies, fountain pens, high-fidelity phonograph cartridges, radiation measuring instruments, strain gages, rubber swimming masks, tools, auto storage batteries and many others.

So powerful is 910 Adhesive that care must be used to prevent spillage and accidental bonding.

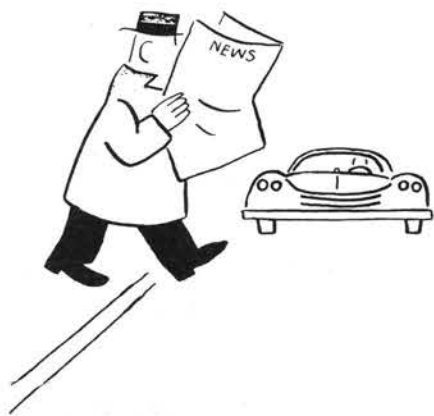

With the wide range of industry interested, touching virtually all fields of manufacturing, ECPI felt marketing plans should include an organization well versed in the adhesives field, equipped to provide technical assistance and laboratory service. Armstrong Cork Co. was selected.

Recordak Corp. assembles rubber endorser plates to its steel support in its micro-filmer-endorser with Eastman 910 Adhesive, solving difficult wear, register, adherence problem.

Names Make News

Aspects of fire protection in the chemical industry were described by Allen L. Cobb, director of industrial safety at Kodak Park, in a talk before the chemical section of the 46th National Safety Congress in Chicago.

Dr. William West, KP Research Lab, will speak at the meeting of the Society of Applied Spectroscopy in New York City Nov. 9.

Jim McVittie, A&OD Suggestion Dept. head, spoke on suggestion investigations at the National Suggestion Committee's meeting in Buffalo Oct. 27-28. A past president of the group, McVittie also served as a workshop moderator at the meeting.

Parting Token At a recent meeting of the KPAA Film City Toastmasters Club, Roland Beach, KP Research Laboratories, at left, was presented with a testimonial gavel upon completing his duties as president. Making the award on behalf of the group was Charles Lyons, Bldg. 26, the incoming prexy.

Kodak-Pathe Opens Branch

Kodak-Pathe has a new wholesale branch in Dakar, capital of French West Africa. This city, located in the territory of Senegal, also is an important Atlantic Ocean port. J. R. Leger has been named manager of the branch.

Best Wishes

Alphonse Boucquaert, KP Sundries retired, and his wife will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary tomorrow, Nov. 7. A family dinner at Melody Lane will mark the occasion. Al joined KP in 1923 and retired from his duties in 1955.

Movie Contest

A "special event" movie contest, to be held Dec. 10, is expected to bring out some original ideas by Kodak amateur movie-makers. An ice show, a parade, a rodeo, a wedding—almost anything of this nature is eligible, according to Edward Crane, chairman of the Movie Section committee. Entries will be judged in beginners' and advanced classes and live or recorded sound will be permitted. For further information, call the Camera Club or competition chairman, Roland Beach, ext. 4334.

Put a Smile In Your Kitchen

These light-hearted funny faces will put a smile into your kitchen or that of a friend's. Double-thick crochet cotton makes these pot holders practical while bright colors and sparkling buttons, sequins and rhinestones make them gay. The instruction leaflet is available at your KODAKERY office, the KPAA, and the Employee Activities offices at A&OD and NOD, or by writing to KODAKERY, 343 State St.

Good to See 'Em

Miles Brown and John Hess. In the long center row are James Milner, Ed Thompson, Chester Vogt, Ralph Morey, Alex Liccione, James Lear, Henry Nixon, Art Young, Clarence Buckley, Jack Christensen, John

Wall, Victor Carson, Ed Vicinus, George Craven, Floyd Wheeler and Ralph King. Standing on the raised platform are William Kridel, Steve Rouss, Ed Hoefen, Ernie Maurer, George Tebo, Charles Wolff, Rudolph Figler, Ezra Plinz, Bob Genthner, Harry Cleveland and William Barrett. Also attending the party were James Pickworth and Harry Menzies.

Helen Fremd, Film Emul., Bldg. 30, found out firsthand why so many Europeans in the United States could never forget the "Old Country." She left New York on the Greek liner SS Olympia, picking up a little knowledge of the Greek language on the crossing to Lisbon. She had such a good time she'd like a repeat trip to such places as Madrid, Paris, Brussels, Heidelberg, Venice, Rome and Capri. . . . Jean Farbo, Purchasing, and Virginia Muller, KO ES&L, will be reminiscing about their Bermuda vacation for a long time to come. . . . Cecelia Grimm, Paper Box, was guest of honor at a service dining room luncheon. Cecelia is taking up house-keeping duties.

Ida Taylor of the X-Ray Scan. and Pkg. Dept. reports an enjoyable vacation in California. A tour of the Palo Alto Processing Lab was one of the high spots of her trip, says Ida.

Topic of conversation for many months to come in the Edwin Wegman household will be the family's summer trip to the West Coast. Ed of Color Pmt. & Proc., his wife Lois and their six children made the 8,600-mile trip by station wagon. Points of interest included Grand Canyon, Yellowstone, Yosemite, Disneyland and Fisherman's Wharf. Ed also visited the Hollywood and Palo Alto Processing Labs. . . . Carol Guilian was feted by MASD Stock and Shipping associates at Crescent Beach Hotel before she left to be a stay-at-home. . . . Sixty-one Testing Div. members held their "Distinguished Service" picnic at Steve Maley's cottage overlooking Canadice Lake. Larry VanDam was elected president of the group. Other officers named were Charlie Berntson, vice-president; Bob Waite, secretary; Jim Adams, treasurer; Al Gilmore, sergeant-at-arms.

Paul Ludke and Harry Hammond took home the $20 first prize in the recent Vita Vac euchre tourney. The second and third teams were composed of George Versiraten and John Palermo, and John Fuino and Ernest Allan. . . . Bob Olcott is the new KODAKERY correspondent for the Chem. Plant. . . . Scarcity of pheasants is attested to by Jack Kellogg, Ind. Rel., who hiked through the Bushnells Basin, Fair Haven and Walworth areas on four days before bagging two birds. . . . John Benson of Still Room A is driving a new red and white Plymouth Belvedere.

Being a contestant on the TV quiz show, "The Price Is Right," proved most profitable for the wife of Lawrence Sanders, A&OD (H-E) Tool Room. She won $1,174 in prizes which included a home workshop for Larry, a washer-dryer combination and clothing for the family. . . . When the Plastic Molding Dept. had its annual picnic at Ellison Park in mid-October, Harold Williams of the Plastics group pitched a no-hitter against the Dipping Room's softball team. Jerry Fess chairmanned the get-together. . . . Before Pat Driscoll moved to Haboro, Pa., 55 Proc. Dev. friends parted him and his wife at Braemar Country Club. Pat's well known as a gadget genius, gem cutter and telescope maker. . . . Ceil Slomczewska and Jeanette Gysel, NOD Dept. 60, took in Las Vegas and part of Mexico on their trip to California. . . . Just back from a three-week motor trip to Florida are Zita Anderson, Wage Stds., and Josephine Gudinas, A&OD(H-E) Res. and Dev.

The capriciousness of hunter's luck brought Don Thorpe, Plastic Molding, a bag of two pheasants and his limit of ducks on the first day of hunting—while his friend, Merle Drake of the same department, couldn't shake up anything but a few hens. . . . Joe Blash, Proc. Dev., and his wife Helen had a special purpose for their recent New York trip. He tried out his new Kodak Retina Camera and returned with lovely slides of Times Square, Gotham's skyline and the new stage show, "Goldilocks." . . . Other nimrods were Buffing members Pete Iacobelli who shot one pheasant and Charlie Noack who brought down three of the ring-necked birds and a rabbit.

Water skiing in the North Sea off the Yorkshire coast of England was the way Anne Kennedy, Internat. Div., spent most of her September holiday. Anne, who visited her family in Scarborough, now is looking forward to a busy winter. She and her apartment-mate, Jean Flynn, Clr. Prod. Info., and two other girls have rented a house. . . . When Pat Breese married Michael Torcello, almost the entire Industrial Relations staff made the trip to Batavia to attend the wedding and reception. Pat's wedding dress, incidentally, was fashioned by her sister. A surprise shower was given for her by the mother of Dolores Kryk Boden, former department member now at the EK Store in Washington. . . . Bostonian Judy Haley is the new KODAKERY correspondent in the Internat. Div.

Being entertained by Princess Marcella Borghese in Rome will be the finale of Jim Gaudin's European trip. The Audio-Visual Serv. member met the princess when she was in Rochester several months ago. Paris, the Brussels Fair and a trip to Mt. St. Michel preceded a motor trip through southwestern France.

In Guatemala City's Carmen Church two EKers recently took part in a wedding. Adolph Ruiz, left, of KO Publications Serv., was best man for his son, Adolph of KP Film Emul. Coat. Father then went on to Kodak Cubana on business. The bridegroom and his bride, Carmen, whom he met on a previous Guatemalan vacation, honeymooned at Lake Atitlan.

A buffet supper-bowling party at the Bowl-a-Roll proved to be a fine get-together, according to KO 11th floor folk. Above, Charlie Smith gets ready for a strike as Dudley Matthews chooses his ball and Betty Hartman, Bob Butler and Jack Williams wait their turns. Dudley scored high for the men with 196, Mary Coffey for the girls with 167.

Leo Huberth . . . to travel

Huberth, a punch press operator, lists travel as his hobby and hopes to enjoy many short trips. A daughter, Margaret Fuehrer, is in KP Motion Picture and Sheet Film.

Stock, who has been associated with Film Emulsion's production services, plans several bus tours next summer.

Park Pair Tells of Retirement Plans

Two KP men joined the roster of retired EKers on Nov. 1. They are Leo Huberth, Sundries, who has completed 29 years of Company service, and William Stock, Film Emulsion, who has rounded out 11.

KP Foremen's Club Books Capt. Johnson

From Pitcairn to Zanzibar with Capt. Johnson

Capt. Irving Johnson, an old favorite with KP audiences, will present his latest travel film, "Trade Wind Islands from Pitcairn to Zanzibar," as the highlight of the Kodak Park Foremen's Club meeting Nov. 11 in Bldg. 28.

Johnson, who has made many trips around the world in his famous brigantine, the Yankee, this time takes a young amateur crew among South Pacific and Indian Ocean Islands from South America to Africa.

Preceding the film will be a stage presentation, the Roulette Sisters, featuring an eye-appealing trio in several original song renditions. Door prizes and short movies also are set. A prime ribs of beef dinner will be served in the second floor cafeteria starting at 4:45 p.m. Deadline for the sale of dinner tickets is today, Nov. 6.

A&OD Club to Hear U. S. Defense Aide

"From Adam to Atom" with J. Lewis Powell

The Nov. 11 A&OD Management Club dinner meeting will have as its featured speaker J. Lewis Powell, Office of the U.S. Secretary of Defense. Supporting Powell on the evening's program will be "Dalton and Bailey," internationally known comedy trapeze artists, and Dick Court and Genie Saunders, song stylists.

Powell, mechanical and aeronautical engineer, served as a civilian member of the War Production Board and as a navy commander attached to the Executive Office of the Secretary of Navy during World War II. In both assignments he did management trouble-shooting in the field of industrial mobilization. During the Korean conflict he returned to Washington on similar assignments. "The Collapse of Time" will be Powell's theme for the evening. Though a profound subject, his zany, off-beat and unorthodox presentation will dramatize points "from Adam to atom."

It's a regular feature performance at the Management Course of the American Management Association of New York, and the U.S. Army Command Management Schools.

A roast tenderloin of beef dinner will be served in the north side of the A&OD(CW) cafeteria from 4:45 to 5:45 p.m. A 30-minute movie program and a door prize drawing will be held in the State St. auditorium following dinner.

Tickets may be purchased from members of the club's ticket committee at $1.50 each.

5 Appointments Told By International Div.

Several International Div. members have new posts.

Dick Esperon has arrived in Lisbon to become assistant manager of Kodak Portugal after spending three weeks in Rochester. A Kodaker since 1947, a foreign assignment took Dick to Kodak Philippines in 1953 and to Kodak Colombiana in 1955.

Don Treber, a member of International Advertising for two years before joining the International Div. in April, has joined the staff of Kodak Colombiana.

Peter Schmidt, a KOer since '55 and in the International

Div. for the past year, now is in Lausanne as staff assistant to the manager of Kodak Switzerland.

Aide in Mexico

Howard Peterson, a KO Credit member for four years prior to June when he joined International, is staff assistant to Mel Lundahl, asst. mgr. for operations of Kodak Mexicana.

Robert Perko, MASD supervisor of photofinishing technical representatives until his transfer to International in June, has joined Kodak Hawaii as sales supervisor. He has been an EKER since '52.

Brehm Lecture Nov. 14

The annual Brehm Memorial Lecture will be given at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 14, in Dryden Theater by Ansel Adams, noted U.S. photographer. Adams also will receive the Brehm Medal which is given annually in memory of Frederick Brehm, former Kodaker and teacher of photography at RIT.

Adams' topic is "Definitions." He will discuss what constitutes fine photography.

KO Committee Awards $2,240 for Good Ideas

Sixty awards made at four recent KO Suggestion Committee meetings totaled $2,240.

Topping the list was a $1,000 award to Ken Schweger, Verifax representative for the Midwestern Sales Div. (KODAKERY, Oct. 30). Rochester high on the current list is a $100 award to Gertrude Davis, Sales.

$85—Bill Betterley, technical representative.

$50—Bruce Baker, Business & Technical Personnel; Michael Clifford, Midwestern Sales Div., Chicago.

$35 — Clarence Bissell, Sales; John Bower and Lawrence Donnor, Company Training (joint award).

$25 — Patricia Spodaryk, Credit; Carl Juengling, Stationery; Ed Maliborski, Building Services; Aura Striebach, formerly of Export Sales; Betty Smith, Personnel; Roy Horne, Sales; Louis Stahlman, Sales; Patricia Fallis, Industrial Relations; Eugene Wardynski, Apparatus Service.

Park Scout Troop Marks 40th Anniversary

Area and district Scouters, as well as parents and former members, were among those attending a dinner Oct. 20 in Bldg. 28 at KP honoring the 40th anniversary of Kodak Park's Boy Scout Troop 50. An Eagle Court of Honor ceremony also marked the occasion.

Following a dinner, John Bushfield, the Troop's institutional representative, introduced Howard Patton, deputy regional Scout executive, here from New York City. Representing Otetiana Council were Fred Wellington, council Scout executive; Paul VonBacho, Council Scout commissioner; Stuart Smith, Blackhawk District executive, and William Horne, district commissioner. Other guests at the speakers' table were John E. McMillen, KP director of industrial relations; Clayton A. Benson, KP director of employee activities; Carl Eckardt, Troop 50 Committee chairman, and Mrs. Harry Paddock, widow of the Troop's former institutional representative. Each of the guests received a neckerchief and was made an honorary member of the troop.

Every Troop 50 Scout received one or more awards in the course of the evening. Highlighting the ceremonies was the presentation of an Eagle Scout Award to Bruce Steinfeldt, son of Gordon Steinfeldt, KP Film Emulsion, and Mrs. Steinfeldt. Patton made the presentation, being assisted by VonBacho. A Tenderfoot investiture, conducted by Scoutmaster William Costain, saw seven new members added to Troop 50.

Six former Troop 50 scoutmasters were among those attending the fete. They are Julian Wojack, Chester Selbert, Lester (Buck) Brown, Vernon Howe, Alfred Brooks and Richard Freer.

Wint Lemen To Speak

Wint Lemen, manager of Kodak's Photo Press Div., is one of the speakers for the coast to coast short courses in photo journalism sponsored by National Press Photographers Assn. His subject is "Exposure." Sessions will be held in Los Angeles, Nov. 9; Omaha, Nov. 11; St. Louis, Nov. 13; Tampa, Nov. 14, and Schenectady, Nov. 16. The 10 instructors will be flown from place to place by special plane.

High Honor

J. E. McMillen, KP director of industrial relations, congratulates Bruce Steinfeldt upon receiving an Eagle Award from Kodak Park's Boy Scout Troop 50. Bruce's parents, Gordon and Irma, look on admiringly from the right. The ceremony highlighted a Bldg. 28 dinner celebrating the 40th anniversary of the troop.

Teen-Ager Exhibits Bird Pix

Attracting much attention this month in the Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences is an exhibition of wild bird portraits by Torrey Jackson of Marblehead, Mass.

In his late teens, Jackson gained some of his stature in the photographic world through his success in the Kodak High School Photo Contest. Young Jackson has been a consistent winner since 1954.

The one-man show in the museum's second floor special exhibition gallery will run through this month. Concurrently there's an exhibit of salon prints from the 9th Kodak High School Photo Contest. In this show is one of Jackson's prize-winning prints of the 1954 judging. A duplicate is in Jackson's one-man show.

Torrey began photographing birds at the age of 12.

Actual planning of an exhibit starts several months in advance of the show. Below assistant Manager Dick Coddington, who is in charge of design and planning, checks a drawing with Mary Alice Hughes, designer and art director.

Bigger 'n' Better 'Show' Business

Robert Lauth assembles a display prior to a show preview at McKee Rd. Fred Hodgson, white shirt, is in charge of supplying the products for such displays.

Packing, crating and shipping the innumerable parts and pieces of an exhibit is a big job. Claude Robinson, above, uses new fork truck to load EK truck backed up to new automatic dock leveler. The driver is Ray Wilson, KP truck service.

Getting the shows on the road and keeping track of them with the aid of a schedule board, pictured at right, is the responsibility of Ed Boothby and Betty Burke.

A SPACIOUS DISPLAY SETUP ROOM, adequate storage space, no stairs to climb, new mechanized equipment, and accessibility to props and furnishings! These are among the numerous advantages their new quarters at 1 McKee Rd. offer the Advertising Exhibits Div.

The Exhibits Div. is the part of the Kodak family that designs, plans and constructs exhibits for conventions and trade shows where Company products are displayed. The largest is the annual convention of the Master Photo Dealers and Finishers. Some of these have been as big as 65 by 80 feet. Smallest of the exhibits are 8 by 8 feet.

Big advantage of the new location is the more spacious setup room where the shows and displays actually are assembled before being shipped to a convention. It was impossible to set up the big shows in their former Gioia Bldg. quarters. This meant the frequent rental of larger quarters, and the resultant expense and inconvenience.

With everything on one floor now, and under one roof, the staff has easy access to the crates of exhibit material and props, which may be stacked in neat rows by a fork truck operator. The truck, incidentally, is a welcome addition to the division's equipment. Another feature in the warehouse area is an automatic dock leveler which facilitates the loading of trucks.

In their old quarters the staff used three floors for storage. A garage adjacent to the Gioia Bldg. also was used for "excess baggage."

Here is an over-all view of the "back room" at 1 McKee Rd. used as a combination exhibit setup room and warehouse. In the foreground staff members were preparing a "products show" for the recent Western States Master Photo Dealers' and Finishers' Assn. show in Los Angeles. In the background are stacks of equipment and props used in the preparation of some 125 shows during the course of a year.

Exhibits Div. Manager Bob Locker maintains his office at KO since the division is part of the Advertising Dept.

A corps of 12 specialists under the direction of Dick Coddington, Locker's assistant, keeps the shows "on the road." The McKee Rd. personnel includes, besides Coddington who is in charge of design and planning, an exhibits designer, a number of craftsmen who build models and maintain the exhibits, an electrician, a spray painter, stockmen, secretary, and "road men" who set up exhibits.

Coordination of shop and field work is under the direction of Ed Boothby.

Before planning an exhibit, Locker and his staff find out as much as possible about the physical layout of the building or hotel housing the convention. Sufficient space to tell the story is important. If space problems are such that customers can't comfortably remain to receive the full sales "pitch," they're apt to lose interest and wander away, Locker points out.

The Exhibits Div. averages about 125 conventions and trade shows every year—plus about 75 miscellaneous exhibits. This makes the business of planning, preparing and setting up shows a year-around proposition for the folk at 1 McKee Rd.

Family Night Set For Hockey Fans

Third annual Kodak Night at the hockey game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 16.

It will be the Rochester Americans vs. the Hershey Bears in a regularly-scheduled American League game at the War Memorial rink.

Tickets are being offered at reduced rates as is customary for this annual attraction. The $2.50 rinkside seats are available at $1.75, the $2 ducats are cut to $1.25, while the $1.50 locations are marked down to $1.

These special rates apply only if tickets are purchased in advance at the KPAA, A&OD, KORC and DPI Vita Vac offices.

All seats are reserved. Tickets for children, up to and including 16 years of age, are available with the purchase of adult tickets at 75 cents per boy and girl.

Leo Schneider, A&OD Stock Control Dept., a dyed-in-the-wool Rochester Americans' fan, will have the family out in full force for Kodak Family Night.

BITS ABOUT 'EM—Kudos from KODAKERY to Jack Brightman, the KP basketball major domo, on his election to the presidency of the KP Pioneers' Club. A 42-year Kodaker, Brightman has played, coached and managed the KP Dusty cagers and also directs the departmental hardwood program at the Park. . . . A tip o' the chapeau also to Brightman's protege, Ronnie (Red) Overmyer, newly-named coach of the Kaypees. The former Edison Tech (1944-45-46) all-scholastic dribble dandy, the KP redhead has seen considerable service with such independent powerhouses as East Rochester's Roses, the Pauls and Oneida concurrent with his 10-year span in KP colors. "And I figure I still have a couple of seasons to go as a player," Overmyer opines. Opponents have got to agree. . . . Jim Ames, A&OD (H-E) Tool Room, a veteran hunter and woodsman, is a bit embarrassed when he recalls his latest experience in gunning down a trophy buck. After bagging and tagging a 153-pound, 10-point prize, Ames discovered he was helplessly lost. A bit of hiking brought him to a farm near Pulaski, N.Y., where the tenants straightened out his mental road map. . . . Dads, daughters and sons, 428 strong, enjoyed Ray Walsh's annual KORC hockey night promotion. After partaking of a sumptuous feast prepared by Dorothy Chasey and her KO Cafeteria aides, the kids lived it up through an hour or so of Disney cartoons and then ushered dads to the War Memorial where they saw the Rochester Americans whip Providence. . . . The pretty gal in DPI's Reception Office can compete with the best Monday morning quarterbacks in the land. For about seven years now, Mary Reardon's weekends during the season have been devoted to football. Each Saturday the DPI gal can be found in a stadium rooting for her favorite team (which is Syracuse this year, she confides). And each year she plans at least one big weekend. Last year it was Notre Dame-Army at Philadelphia.

In the fast company of tennis, Briggs Austin, KP, has proved that he can more than hold his own. He has just made his first summer in Rochester a successful one on the courts.

Coming here in mid-July from Los Angeles where he served as office manager for Kodak's Pacific Southern Sales Division, he entered the Rochester city singles championship at the Tennis Club of Rochester and startled area observers by marching to the quarter-final round before being eliminated. He also played as a member of the Color Tech team in the KPAA Departmental Tennis League and wound up the season by winning the KPAA men's singles title.

Although he's been playing tennis since his high school days in St. Louis, he later acquired polish at Dartmouth where he won his "D" competing against net squads for such big schools as Yale, Harvard, Cornell and Princeton. During the winter months, he switches his talents to skiing, table tennis and squash.

Austin's plans for next summer augur well for KP's chances to gain supremacy in the Industrial Tennis League. He's almost certain to land a berth on the Kaypees' well-balanced team. At 43, that's not bad—not bad at all.

While most Kodak hunters roamed area fields in the hope of bagging a pheasant or two, a group of A&OD hunters journeyed to a licensed game preserve near Cuba, N.Y., and returned with 24 birds to store in their deep freezers. Enjoying the tailor-made hunting were Don Barnes and his son, Don Jr.; Frank DeClerck and his son, Tom, and John DeClerck and his son, David.

BOWLING BANTER

Ruth Fess Rolls 555 . . . Pace Posts 670

Ruth Fess set a new women's high three mark at A&OD by rolling a fine 555 series in the North Park Girls' League last week. Ruth carved out games of 181, 223 and 151. Earlier in the season Virginia Zaso recorded a 553 set.

In the same league Eleanor Holland and Loretta Wolter flattened a couple of toughies in the split department. Eleanor leveled the 6-7-10 spread. Loretta picked the 4-6-7.

Barbara Harding was top scorer in the Girls' National League with a 184-527. Virginia Garzone paced the Girls' American League with a 180-515.

Other high A&OD scores: Joanne Johnston 204, Marie Monteleone 201, Mary Santarose 188, Mary Matrachisa 188, Bette Langworthy 187, Marcella Taillie 186, Dottie Maule 185, Isabelle Ras 184, Florence Kreciak 181, Mona Goodman 178, Gilda DeFranco 177-174, Esther Wilshaw 176, Helen Young 176.

Chet Pace went after the pins with a vengeance last week and came up with a 670 total. His games of 204, 228, 238 set a new high triple mark in the A&OD Men's Domm League. Team-mate Lou Kenyon tossed a 177-205-228-610 set.

The pace was pretty torrid in the A&OD Individual League also. Ray Blaesi had a 248-639, Joe Callipari a 235-635, John Weagley a 226-633, Elmer Eckert a 222-612, Ed Keenan a 214-605, and Dick Bleier a 225-602.

The big news in recent Vita Vac Men's Bowling League play was the Accounting team's move into first. Led by Jack Frenz's 531 and Ed Clark's 520, the Accounting team swept five points in the match with Bldg. 308, former first-place occupants. Other DPI highs: Don Nolan 229-573.

Harry O'Boyle, a 159-average bowler, turned in the best score of his career, hitting for 224-613 in the EC&M League. Fred Benz registered 243, Ken Serow 227. Phil Lestorti turned in a triplicate of 172.

Other KP league highs:

KPAA Novice League—Charles Worboys 243.

C&I League—Bill Fisher 246, Vern Hitchcock 246, Don Roth 231, Harry Horn 228.

"A" League—Ray Downs 225-606, Gord Malin 225-604, Frank Solerak 222.

Roll Coating Day League—Walt Anderson 222, Ken Harper 211.

KPAA Classic League—Herb Freeman 223-637, Clarence Ernisse 244.

Must be that Sunday shelling agrees with Carol Smith, a 126 average bowler in the KORC Gem League. In a make-up Sabbath session, Carol crayoned a 212-482. The game was a season record for the loop and the series fell one pin short of Mary Ann Bauer's 483 series high.

Frank Knop, A&OD Engineering Dept., used round figures to gain membership in the triplicate club. Rolling in a non-Kodak league, Frank recently penciled three 150 games. Ben Luce joined the triplicate ranks by rolling three 159 games in the Kodak Park C&I League.

Sports Sidelights

The second annual Bldg. 23 Engineering Golf Tournament was recently held at Lake Shore where Ed Connell won the P. T. Elliot Trophy for the second time with a low gross of 77. Class A low net honors went to Ernie Mohr with 86-15-71. Ernie Tanzer posted 80-18-62 to sweep Class B laurels while Roy Hansen carded 96-30-66 to take the Class C prize.

Members of the A&OD table tennis team were selected by their play in a recent round robin tournament. Here is the eight-man squad that will see action during the Industrial League season and the order in which they finished in the tourney: Ted Mosher, Al Wilson, Jack Pollock, Don Dilliplane, Dan Stone, Jack Fowler, Bob McPherson and Ed Tafel.

Gems Sport New Blouses

All decked out in new blouses are the officers of the KORC Gems' League which bowls every Thursday night at Olympic Bowl. Reading from the front: Joyce Brown, president; Diane Eggers, secretary; Mary Ann Bauer, vice-president; Mary Belluomo, treasurer, and Roslyn D'Amico, sergeant-at-arms.

The eight-team league has been sporting the lettered blouses for the past two weeks. Mary Belluomo's Emeralds lead the loop at this point, with Carolyn Kick's Rubies and Kay Maginn's Pearls tied for second place.

Salon Deadline Nears 11 DAYS LEFT TO ENTER

IF "HOW TO ENTER THE 24th KODAK INTERNATIONAL SALON OF PHOTOGRAPHY" is posing a problem, Bob Kleinschmidt has the answer. "It's simple—pick up an entry form at the Kodak or A&OD Camera Clubs or at the recreation offices of KP, A&OD, KO or DPI. List your favorite pictures under the form's various classifications. Then, deliver your pictures and the filled-out form to the camera clubs or recreation offices by Nov. 17," says Bob, salon exhibition chairman. This member of KP Paper Service entered the stereo class last year and won the J. C. White Award of sterling silver.

Last Day

Time: Friday, Oct. 17 . . .
Lucille Oberst, KO receptionist, was on duty in the lobby at 343 State St. This was the final day for the lobby, marking an end of an era at Kodak Office.

First Day

Time: Monday, Oct. 20 . . .
Lucille was on the job at the reception desk in the lobby of the newly-refurbished Bldg. 10 at 377 State St. where she'll hold forth until the new building is completed.

Bold Bandits Bind Bill But Bluecoats Bag 'Baddies'

It had all the earmarks of a routine day when Bill Teerlinck, Kodak advertising representative, dropped into a Chicago camera store recently for his first call.

Actually it turned out to be a humdinger for Bill found himself in the midst of a hold-up — Chicago style. It was complete with bandits, guns, gags and finally a host of cops who captured the bandits.

Teerlinck

Bill, a former member of MASD at Bldg. 205 and now assigned to the Midwestern Sales Div. in Chicago, had stopped at the World Camera Shop on Michigan Ave. in Chicago. He was discussing the store's advertising program with Mike Cialdella, the proprietor. In the midst of it Mike suggested they step out for some coffee.

On their return "we were received by three armed bandits," reported Bill. "They already had tied and gagged his clerks and in a very few minutes Mike and I joined this group stretched out on the floor with our hands and feet tied."

Meantime Mrs. Cialdella, who was in a basement darkroom, suspected that something upstairs was wrong when a telephone continued to ring unanswered. She summoned police.

Teerlinck says that within a few minutes about 36 policemen with drawn guns surrounded the place and some began pouring into the store.

"At that time," says Bill, "we decided we were in the best possible position—flat on the floor!"

The cops soon had the two holdup men in handcuffs and recovered $112, some of which belonged to Teerlinck. Later they captured a third man in a getaway car nearby. Police said the trio are ex-convicts.

They Have Cameras, Travel

When the SS South American docked at Charlotte Harbor with some 500 Ohio folk as passengers, the group spent the day touring Kodak Park and Eastman House. More than one-third of the 230 who took the morning KP tour arrived with cameras. To facilitate return of the 80 cameras after the tour, Clayt Alt, head of KP Public Relations, had the checking tables moved outside Bldg. 28 near the group's buses. Above, Anna Markusic of Euclid, Ohio, reclaims her Brownie Turret Movie Camera from Clayt as others wait with their claim checks.

Dental X-ray Catalog

There's a new eight-page catalog of Kodak dental X-ray materials. It includes a useful chart which presents exposure and processing recommendations for Kodak dental X-ray films in different types used in intraoral radiography for periapical tests.

The illustrated catalog is available without charge from dealers in Kodak dental X-ray materials or from EK's X-ray Div.

Verifax Men Meet

Twenty-one Verifax representatives from all corners of the country gathered in Rochester recently for their annual meeting. On the agenda was a discussion of plans for 1959 in addition to the formulation of a dealer sales training program. The week's schedule was arranged by Don Schading. Upon completion of the meeting, the men proceeded to New York City for the National Business Show, Oct. 20-24.
