

E A S T E R

ST. THOMAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

MY DEAR FRIENDS:

Light victorious over darkness! The dawn of the first Easter Day was no more victor over night than was the Resurrection of Jesus victor over death. To the tomb came the apostles at dawn, slow and weary in step. But they left it running, eager to bring the joy of Easter to their friends.

So to-day Easter brings us thrilling news of the ultimate victory of every faithful Christian over darkness, over death. It is a foretaste of that glorious and thrilling knowledge which will be our choicest possession when we enter the life which is eternal through the veil we call death.

To-day as then—for God does not change—Easter brings the assurance of God that He awaits His own beyond this earthly life, that He who sent His own Son to pass through the gates of death has left them forever open to those who believe in Him.

We rejoice as did the disciples; we thrill with the annual song of hope turned into certainty; of darkness turned into light; of battle turned into victory, and await the time when, with our Risen Lord, we may joyfully enter Paradise to be with our loved ones gone before, and with Him.

Sincerely,

GUY H. MADARA

Easter, 1935
